Aloha kākou,

With our new trustees in place, Kamehameha Schools Bishop Estate has entered a transitional phase—a journey of sorts—that will determine the structure and momentum of our institution in the next century.

This journey presents us with unique opportunities: a time to re-examine the core values of our perpetual educational mission and to assess our strengths and weaknesses in terms of how well we are meeting the objectives of that mission. And, perhaps most importantly, whatever KSBE will look like at the end of this process, the process itself will be inclusive. We'll all play a part.

As a first step, an analysis is underway of KSBE's organizational, managerial and reporting systems and processes throughout KSBE and it's subsidiary organizations. The objectives are many: identify strategic education program growth options; consolidate our financial statements and cash flow projections; streamline and develop clear accountability and consistency in budget presentations; complete an inventory of all assets; review, update and develop comprehensive investment, spending, and financial planning policies; develop an infrastructure that provides for the efficient management and reporting on KSBE's total endowment; maintain integrity in internal controls and processes; maintain legal, regulatory (public/private) and tax compliance; and, develop proactive communication plans for the institution.

The results of this process will enable the Board of Trustees and management of KSBE to make prudent and informed policy and management decisions in pursuing our educational goals, and will help set the tempo for moving forward. It's a big job and we will need the talents, expertise, and positive contributions of everyone at KSBE to accomplish it well.

Even as we begin the tasks ahead, we know that nothing human is without imperfection. But, we also know there is nothing whatsoever preventing us from striving for perfection—together—and that our harmonic whole can only come from a union of purpose in every voice.

The journey is ours to plan and make together. One 'ohana. Let us begin.

I Mua Kamehameha!

MARK YOUR CALENDARS!

Kamehameha Schools Year 2000 calendars—celebrating the cultural importance of native koa forests and the beauty of its wood— will be mailed to alumni in November.

ALOHA KĀKOU

Aloha,

I am delighted to have this opportunity to speak with all of you after such a tumultuous time. There is much to share, as you might imagine.

This is a new day for Kamehameha Schools and I thank each and every one of you for the part you have played in bringing us to where we are. As we move to the future, I invite you to join in the monumental task of rebuilding our school. Our job is great and will only be accomplished with your help.

We have had a busy summer at the Schools. By the time we go to press we will have opened our new Kamehameha Schools Maui campus. We have also identified a site for our permanent East Hawai'i campus, and with the blessing of the Board of Trustees, we are re-establishing partnership to further our community outreach. Here at Kapalama Heights, our teachers and staff have begun the school year with a renewed sense of vigor and commitment, an attitude that has been highly contagious. Very soon, we will begin strategic planning, a genuine, inclusive effort that will equip us to take the Schools well into the new millennium.

In closing, let us take a moment to reflect on our beloved Ke Ali'i Pauahi and the vision she had for the children which we now hold.

I Mua Kamehameha!

A New Era in Education is Begun

"We approach the new millennium with exciting plans to reach more Hawaiian children and youth...

-Dr. Michael Chun

t Haleakalā the winds have history. The winds ferry afternoon clouds which darken and trundle down the mountainside—portending rain that rarely comes. It's a story retold in cloud formations named for the winds Nāulu and 'Ukiu:

"This is the home of Nāulu.

Nāulu is the [southern] wind.

It bears the Nāulu clouds along.

"This is the home of 'Ukiu.

'Ukiu is the [northern] breeze that lives on the mountain."

They are called Cloud Warriors—Nāulu and 'Ukiu—and they reside in the uplands of Haleakalā where they do daily combat in the sky. They battle to possess the mountain. Each day they meet in cumulus collision above a dry patch of earth known in earlier times as 'A'apueo.

Since the decimation of its forests over a century ago, Maui's kula lands have been arid. With the exception of a sacred hill nearby at Pu'upane, only thickets of cacti and wild grasses appliqué the landscape. It is the realm of winds.

Recently, a cacophony of construction has interrupted the quiet as piece by piece of a long-held dream became a physical, structural reality. At the start of this new school year, the first permanent Kamehameha Schools campus beyond Oʻahu's shores commences classroom instruction just below the mountain abode of the Cloud Warriors. At 'A'apueo in Kula.

Planning, design and site designation for Kamehameha's new Maui Campus took several years. "We were trying to meet four criteria," said Yukio Takemoto, principal executive of KSBE's Budget and Review division which oversees engineering operations. "We wanted a prominent site; a property with good boundaries on either side like we have at Kapālama; one which provided for a good learning environment; and, we wanted a site that could anticipate Maui's long-term development in terms of its proximity to the native Hawaiian community.

"Our studies revealed that only about 12 percent of the Hawaiian community lived in the Lahaina area," Takemoto continued. "And while 35 percent lived in Kahului-Wailuku, another 30 percent lived Upcountry—which is also Maui's residential growth area. Plus, there's a 300-unit Hawaiian Homes development underway near 'Ulupalakua. It became clear that a Kula/Pukalani site would serve the community well."

"With a permanent site secured, we were given a single mandate," said KSBE Facilities & Construction Engineer Walter Thoemmes '84. "Let the educational programs drive the campus design, ensuring that the children from the Maui Campus are given the same opportunities and resources as those at Kapālama.

"For the first time in 115 years, there's a permanent presence of Kamehameha Schools on a neighbor island."

-Cordy MacLaughlin

"Let the educational programs drive the campus design, Maui Campus are given the same

"We spent considerable time... consulting with the people who know these [educational] requirements best."

-Walter Thoemmes

"To take the educational programs and philosophies of Kamehameha and turn them into concrete and steel," Thoemmes continued, "we first spent considerable time interviewing and consulting with the people who know these requirements best: the staff, teachers and administrators of Kamehameha. Only after extensive research was the design and concept for the Maui Campus developed."

Echoes of classic Kapālama Campus architecture, traditional Hawaiian architectural elements, and 21st century technologies were integral to the design. Roofing lines resemble the vaulted frames of hālau. Mid-building atriums house indigenous Hawaiian plants of esteemed tradition—like kukui, a symbol of knowledge and learning, its leafy patterns reflected in breezeway decoration. A stone wall, befitting artisans of old, forms a mauka backdrop. Technically, each classroom is equipped with computers, high-speed Internet access, and distance learning facilities. The technology available to Maui students is equal to Kapālama: state-of-the-art.

"The new school is an extension of Pauahi's Legacy on Maui," said Maui Campus Principal Cordy MacLaughlin. "The resources our students will receive here are comparable to our Honolulu campus. That's a wonderful thing for our parents."

"Having a school like this on Maui is a privilege for us," said Dawn Mahealani Owan, whose son and daughter enter Grades 5 and 4 respectively this year. "Knowing that our children will experience all the wonderful resources Kamehameha has to offer without having to go away is really, really comforting to us."

ensuring that the children from the opportunities and resources as those at Kapālama."

"It's also a historic move," MacLaughlin added. "Because for the first time in 115 years, there's a permanent presence of Kamehameha Schools on a neighbor island."

Kamehameha Schools President Michael Chun enthusiastically welcomed the new campus. "The opening of the permanent Maui Campus is a major milestone in the expansion of Kamehameha's educational services throughout Hawai'i. We approach the new millennium with exciting plans to reach more Hawaiian children and youth, and the opening of our Maui Campus represents an important first step."

aui Campus' Phase I construction is complete and operational from Kindergarten through Grade 6. One grade will be added each school year through Grade 8, so the noise of construction has abated only slightly. With Phase II underway, it will be a while before the voices of Nāulu and 'Ukiu can again climb audibly above the din.

Meanwhile, between the rumble of machines and the resurrection of sonant winds, an exultant new sound—a joyful noise—rises powerfully above them both. Listen. It's the laughter of Ke Ali'i Pauahi's children.

"Our children will experience all the...resources Kamehameha has to offer without having to go away..."

Meet the Trustees

"The inspiration clearly shows... when you look at the children of Kamehameha Schools. That's what it's all about...'"

ADMIRAL ROBERTK.U. KIHUNE

ADMIRAL ROBERT K.U. KIHUNE— "The inspiration clearly shows...when you look at the children of Kamehameha Schools. That's what it's all about. We're here primarily to ensure that these children get the best education. And the children that follow the children that are here today continue to have that education. I don't know what more inspiration you can have. Because if you satisfy that, you know you've done your job. And, I think, [then] you can look in the mirror every night and kind of say, 'I made a difference.'"

ADMIRAL ROBERT K.U. KIHUNE, CHAIRMAN

A 1955 graduate of Kamehameha Schools, Robert Kihune graduated from the U. S. Naval Academy in June, 1959, with a bachelor of science degree in marine engineering, followed by a graduate degree in electrical engineering in 1965. He then set out upon nothing short of an exemplary naval career.

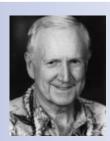

For his outstanding work, Kihune was awarded the service's highest rank, Admiral of the United States Navy and served as a Flag Officer (Admiral) on assignments that ranged from supporting the capture of the terrorists of the Achille Lauro hijacking, to Commander of Naval Surface Forces of the Pacific Fleet where he held overall command of 200 surface ships, 10 naval stations, 60,000 military personnel, 20,000 civilian personnel and managed a $4 billion-plus annual budget. During this time, he directed half of all the naval forces in support of Desert Storm/ Shield. As Assistant Chief of Naval Operations for Surface Warfare, Kihune oversaw the planning, programming and budgeting of all surface ship construction and weapons systems research and was responsible for the pay of over 200,000 surface navy sailors. And, there's a lot more.

Kihune serves as a member and officer of several boards, but perhaps his latest affiliation is his proudest. As president of the USS Missouri Memorial Association, Admiral Kihune is responsible for the refurbishment of the Battleship Missouri and the development of it's associated museum as a top visitor attraction in Hawai'i.

RONALD D. LIBKUMAN, VICE CHAIRMAN

A 1959 graduate of the Detroit College of Law, Ronald D. Libkuman was licensed to practice law in Hawai'i in 1960 and for the next 32 years became a highly-respected specialist in litigation law. With cases typically involving tort law and commercial/business disputes, his work covered accidents of all types—from auto and aircraft to product failures, premises liability, construction accidents and medical malpractice claims.

For the last eight years, Libkuman has been acting as an arbitrator or mediator in all types of legal disputes. A life-long advocate, he is a member of the American College of Trial Lawyers, the American Trial Lawyers Association, the Hawai'i State Bar Association and the American Bar Association.

An Eminent Faculty Member Retires

On my own, I would never have thought about coming here, to even come here visiting. People from the Midwest didn't do that," says tiny former Iowan Elizabeth "Beth" Powers reflecting on her incredible 50-year teaching career at Kamehameha.

"It happened that I was teaching in a school in Waterloo, Iowa," and one day at lunch a friend said to me, 'How would you like to go to Hawai'i?' It had been one of those days," she recalls, "and I said, 'Pack up and go tonight!' But it was still quite a move for me."

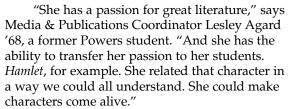

Transitioning from the Midwest to Hawai'i involved a real first-time adventure: "I'd never been on a plane before," Powers remembers. "I took the plane from the middle west to California. Then, from California to Hawai'i. It took forever!"

Arriving at the old Honolulu Airport, Beth Powers received an unexpected greeting. "There were seven or eight people to meet me," she says, "including the then-principal of the Girls' School–because I was coming to teach at the Girls' School. All bearing leis. Of course I knew about leis, but I didn't expect to see piles of them on my arrival. And I had this very warm feeling almost immediately."

F or three years Beth taught business education, then jumped at the opportunity to teach English. "I enjoy literature," she says. "Always have. And I can teach something like Hamlet year after year.

"The thing about Hamlet," Beth continues, "is that there are so many unanswered questions. I usually have the kids write comps (compositions) that deal with whether Hamlet was really crazy or it was all an act? There's no set answer and I think that's more intriguing than something that's solidly black and white."

On her last day of teaching, Beth Powers is surrounded by some of her favorite students in her third period Advanced Placement English class.

Beth Powers also likes to put Chaucer's Canterbury Tales on the plates of her advance placement students. There are messages about moral behavior and values which are presented somewhat indirectly in the way Chaucer talks about people," she says, "not in a preachy way, in an indirect way."

Classroom discussion has always been a favorite part of Beth's teaching style. "I think it's very stimulating to be with kids, preferably at the junior and senior level when, in some ways, they're quite adult but they're still kids. I really like to toss out questions and have kids answer them and maybe exchange ideas with each other. And, I never sit down at my desk."

"On it," says Lesley Agard, "but never at it."

A teacher affects eternity," KS Principal Tony Ramos said in a toast to Beth Powers at her April 25 retirement party, "she can never tell where her influence stops."

How true. For who can ever know how our world has been or will be affected by any among the 5,000 students who have passed through her classroom for half this century? For them, most assuredly, she has been a powerful influence and there's that reputation for strictness.

Beth Powers in 1954.

Surprised by Dr. Michael Chun at Graduation

"I'm sorry," says Beth Powers, "but I don't believe that the most important thing is to build a kid's self-esteem, if it's just to build on the basis of nothing. I've liked my kids to esteem themselves because they've done something estimable. And, therefore, I don't have any compunction about being critical, but I hope I don't give the impression that I'm putting them down as people. I think if you're going to give them a firm foundation, you have to point out their faults. You can't just say, 'Oh, well, he's expressing himself."

Lesley Agard adds, "She has high standards and high expectations of her students."

"It would be nice," Powers says, "to be on amicable terms with every kid all the time—and I think I'm on amicable terms with most of them. But, I would rather be remembered as someone who had expectations of them. And, I'll be happy with what I'm doing if, in the long run, it's done them some good."

"I know that I, as well as many other students, skated through the first two years of college with what we'd learned in her classroom," says Lesley Agard.

In her career at Kamehameha, there have been moments, students and times of great jobsatisfaction for Beth Powers. "It can happen with two different kinds of kids," she says. "It can happen with someone in advance placement and you watch as this child develops into a real writer. Or, there's a lot of satisfaction in a student who's really struggling and who I've had to lead by the hand all along. When, at the end of the year, I can see that person has begun to grasp it, that there's progress, I feel good about that."

Imprinted on red pens that served as party favors for Beth Powers' retirement brunch was the following inscription: "Thank you, Miss Powers, for the lessons...on grammar and life."

This gratitude—on the part of students, alumni, parents, fellow staff and co-workersreached its proudest moment at Commencement, May 31. Sitting in her usual front-row seat, Powers listened as Kamehameha Schools President Dr. Michael Chun began: "While commencement is a time to recognize and applaud the accomplishments of our graduating seniors, it is also a wonderful opportunity for our family to reflect on a special and valued friend... Conceived and first awarded in 1956, the Order of Ke Ali'i Pauahi is the highest award given by the Kamehameha Schools to individuals who have made significant contributions to, and provided outstanding service on behalf of our school...For the past half-century..."

"Suddenly, I realized he was talking about me," she said. "It was such a surprise. Such a wonderful surprise."

E lizabeth "Beth" Powers takes a curtain call at the 1999 KSBE Service Awards ceremonies. Her great gift to Kamehameha: three generations of students whose aptitude for critical thinking, reading and writing has been cultivated by the 50-year labors of this little lady from Iowa who will continue to make Hawai'i her home.

"I hope I have achieved what Mrs. Bishop wanted," she says, "because I've always been a great admirer of Pauahi."

Three generations of Kamehameha graduates believe you have, Beth Powers. More than you'll ever know. Maika'i loa i ka hana, Beth Powers, a me mahalo a nui loa 'ia 'oe.

WALA'AU

By Marlene Sai '59 Director, Alumni and Parents Advancement

June is reunion month at Kamehameha and our Alumni & Parents Advancement Center (APAC) staff has just about put this, our 10th annual reunion celebration, to bed. Classes ending with 4s and 9s celebrated this year with activities filled with the most popular of our top quality events.

Our loyal volunteer manpower team arrived early to ready themselves for the many tasks ahead. KSBE staffers got the grounds ready for our Alumni Reception at Mauka Field, which officially kicked-off this year's festivities. And what a great time: beautiful music by The Jeff Teves' ('75) Quartet, delicious food and, best of all, classmates for company.

You can imagine my delight when old friends Melveen Leed and Loyal Garner accepted my invitation to share their fabulous talents with us at this year's Hawaiian KINE 105 FM live luncheon broadcast. As if that weren't enough, the exciting and very popular group, Chant -featuring Tanner Henderson and Charles Timtim, both KS '89-performed truly outstanding contemporary music for us all. And how bout that house band: Kenneth Makuakane '73, Zanuck Lindsey '77, Alden Levi '87 and Jeff Rasmussen. Wow!

Talent Night's participating classes gathered Thursday to rehearse their presentations for that evening...what a show! Entertainer-judges Teresa Bright and Frank Kawaikapuokalani Hewett voted with venerable KSBE photographer Luryier "Pop" Diamond to hand the Contemporary category trophy to the "Sunshine Kids" of the Class of '69 and the Traditional, Most Participation (percentage) and the Overall (perpetual award which hangs in APAC's office) trophies to the very lively Class of '49.

A gorgeous, sunny June 11th greeted Kamehameha Day as 35 enthusiastic alumni tennis players battled through the morning tournament before their luncheon awards presentation. Later that day, a shot-gun start heralded our simply super KSBE Alumni Golf Tournament at Hickam's AFB's Māmala Bay Golf Course. Vying for either of two superb Volvo-Hawai'i cars or a Las Vegas trip for two were 169 energized golfers who, after their hot day on the links, enjoyed a cool 19th Hole Awards Reception right there before heading out for their respective Class Night functions.

While the sporting crowd was busy, our APAC staff participated in the King Kamehameha statue lei draping ceremony. Our lei ho'okupu -woven from 12 maile lei, wrapped with 20 purple crown flower and 20 tuberose lei-was created with love by Kahea Johansen '98 and her mom Gerry Vinta Johansen '60 and presented to our great ali'i on behalf of KSBE and APAC.

Saturday morning, a bus load of alumni headed to town to enjoy the Kamehameha Day Parade highlighted by KSBE's splendid float entry. That evening it was Alumni Reunion 'Aha'aina at Kekūhaupi'o, hosted by the mighty Class of 1970. What a treat! Truly 'ono mea ai. Plus the class gifted each attendee with wooden platters as a keepsake from this magical night.

Sunday's Memorial Chapel Service brought the curtain down on our 10th annual alumni reunion. Each year, as we recognize and celebrate the lives of our classmates and friends who are with us, in spirit, forever, it seems to bring us fullcircle and right back home.

A heartfelt thanks to everyone who participated in this year's marvelous reunion-alumni, spouses, friends, KSBE and APAC staff and volunteers. What a good time. What great memories. And, a special mahalo to everyone who took the time to call or write APAC to express your appreciation of the time, planning, and organizational work that goes into Reunion each and every year. We-in turn-say mahalo to you for coming, participating, and most of all, for enjoying. Until next time, aloha kekāhi i kekāhi. A hui hou!

Congratulations to Martha Poepoe Hohu '25 and daughter Leila Hohu Kiaha '44, recipients of the Frank P. Kernohan Award presented at the Alumni 'Aha'aina on June 12. Mother and daughter have contributed years of dedicated service to the students of Kamehameha conducting rehearsals and arranging music for the annual Song Contest. Their work in the community and their church are recognized by the lives they have touched. The Frank P. Kernohan Award honors Kamehameha graduates who, with their musical talents, have composed, arranged, and promoted Hawaiian music. Mr. Kernohan was a music teacher at Kamehameha from 1935 to 1952. He also directed the Boys' Concert Glee Club, the Bishop Memorial Church Choir, and coordinated and arranged music for Song Contest.

Class representative Elmer Manley '48 reports that the "Great '48" charged into their second half-century of cherished friendships with a celebration at La Mariana Sailing Club near Sand Island. Song, talk-story and laughter filled the evening as Lorna Chu Kaeck led both singing and cheerleading. Gordon McGuire, who returned from California after many years, was our special guest. A delicious prime rib buffet dinner was topped by gallons of 'ono poke, compliments of Larry Mehau. Albert "Cowboy" Silva's annual Ohikilolo Ranch round-up and lū'au at Mākaha was attended by 1,000 guests. Kirkland Whittle, Magnus Kaleo Taitano, Ramona Silva Cabral, Janet Aleong Holokai, Kainoa "Skippy" Akana, Irwin "Yoka" Cockett, Elmer Manley and their wonderful spouses prepared stew and rice for the throng. Retired General Irwin Cockett, recently appointed state steering committee chairman for the 50th anniversary commemoration of the Korean War, gave the keynote address at Memorial Day ceremonies at the Hawai'i State Veterans Cemetery.

KS '53 voyagers Wilfred Yoshida, Verna Ako Branco, Pua'aloha Kahoiwai and her friend Sharon, Winona Like Hopkins, and Joan Wilhelm Raymond in Alaska.

Forty-six members of the KS '53 'ohana gathered for a Seattle reunion June 4-9, then cruised to Alaska June 10-17. Hosted by longtime Seattle residents, classmates Reidar and Sharon Smith, Heather Roy and Frank Minton, Ruth "Nani" Cockett and James Stormo, sampled the best of Northwest cuisine, toured city and country landscapes, and sang their hearts out at gatherings. Class members sponsored an hour-long performance of hula, traditional Hawaiian, and KS songs at a shopping mall. The show was repeated at a Mother's Day dinner party sponsored by KSAA-Washington Region for Kamehameha alumni and friends in the Seattle-Tacoma area. The leisurely seven-day round trip cruise from Vancouver to Juneau was filled with new and exciting experiences and a closer bonding for the '53 'ohana. For some folks, the reunion and cruise just wasn't enough, so they headed to Las Vegas on a four-day fling. One weary traveler remarked after their long trip, "We were speaking perfect English, and mashed potatoes began tasting so-o-o good!"

1960s

The first of several KS Class of '60 pre-40th reunion celebrations took place over Memorial Day weekend at Kalopā, Waipi'o Valley, Kailua-Kona, and South Kona. Classmates, spouses and other KS alumni tasted the sweet waters of Wai'aha Springs and the passion fruits of Ke'ei, bathed in the cool, clear streams of Nāpō'opo'o, and heard imaginary battle cries of an earlier time at Kealakekua Bay. It was a time of renewal and reawakening of friendships and the spirit that rekindles school pride and "chicken-skin" good feelings. We raised our voices in praise and celebration as we sang Thanks Be to God with the Kahikolu Congregational Church choir in Nāpō'opo'o where the kahu is Wendell Davis '71 and the choir director is Philip Kamoku '76. KS Class of '60, reunion week is June 7-11, 2000...stay tuned.

KS '60 scholarship recipients for the 1999-2000 school year are Kristl Tam '99 and Pakilika Lum '99, attending Texas Christian University and the University of Southern California respectively. Kristl is the daughter of Kenton and Karen Tam '62, and Paki is the Plans are coming together for the KS Class of '65s 35th class reunion in 2000. Our first activity is a kālua pig fundraiser, October 16. Contact class representative, Donna Lei Smythe, if interested in attending. Lost classmates we'd like to find include: Louis Akana, Linda Wong Alden, Harriet Corbin Dailey, Louise Beamer, Albert Bee, Jeffrey Ching, Jeffrey Choy-Hee, Coffy Chun, Carlyle Cornwell, Violet Akana Duff, Dawn Maielua Jordan, Elizsyl McKeague Kaehuaea, Kealoha Kelekolio, Carmella Baricuatro Kim, Geraldine Kinney, Pamela Kim, Clifford Kitashima, Namaha Schutte Kraan, Ronald Lee, Theodore Lemson, Stanley Obrey, Francis Shanahan, Valerie Sunn, Anthony Tavares, and Joseph Yadao. If you know the whereabouts of our classmates, please contact Donna Lei by e-mail: DSm7520142@aol.com.

Elizabeth "Liz" Makuakāne Hansen '67, special events assistant at KSBE, added another title to her name. With husband Ron, and friends Charlie and Mary Bea King she's a partner in King Windward Nissan in Kāne'ohe. Liz is also a board director of King Auto Center. The Hansen/King association began in 1995 after purchasing King Auto Center on Kaua'i. The dealership grew to be #1 on Kaua'i. Through hard work and community service, Ron and Charlie are recipients of Kaua'i County's 1999 Businessmen of the Year Award. Liz says, "Our plans are to use the same formula of success at King Windward Nissan." Also a family affair in the Hansen household, sons Keoni Hansen '91, Kevin Hansen '96 and daughter, Wainani '00, assist mom and dad with the dealerships when time permits.

It's a family thing for Ron and Elizabeth "Liz" Makuakāne Hansen, seen here at their dealership with Wainani '00, Kevin '96, and Keoni '91.

by Dorothy Mo'okini Clemente For August Miller, Frances Dunn Silva and Dorothy Mo'okini Clemente, the 'Aĥa'aina was a time to enjoy each other, meet family members, and share stories of seventy years ago. Writes Dorothy, "The highlight of the evening was once again seeing our Senior Cottage Baby Edmund Austen, son of the late Henrietta Eckart Austen '19. The food was so 'ono, and to top if off, we brought home our monkeypod food trays. Who can beat that? I have never lost the place in my heart I have for Kamehameha, I will always be proud to have Kamehameha as my alma mater. I Mua!"

by Walter T. Chang

Bedecked with double white ginger lei, standing proud and tall, and flashing winning smiles, members of the Class of 1939 celebrating our 60th reunion at the 'Aha'aina included: Frank Vaughan Sr., Genesis Lee Loy, Joseph Chun, Walter Chang, Nohealeimamo Kalaluhi Vaughan, Mae Bode Peloquin, and Dorothy Goo Burger. Celebrating with old friends at the lū'au brought back such wonderful memories for all of us. Walter was recognized for his work as a teacher at Kamehameha and for introducing Auto-CAD (computer-aided drafting) classes in the State of Hawai'i. At the Bishop Memorial Chapel service, the names of classmates no longer with us were read. In 1939, 28 girls and 18 boys graduated. Sixty years later, a total of 29 boys and girls survive. Please contact class representatives Joe Chun at 737-2743 and Elizabeth Steward Brissette at 734-6339 and help make our 65th reunion in 2004 unforgettable. The Bible says, "We all will be blessed, surviving four scores." I Mua, Kamehameha!

by Howard Benham

From our class of '44 graduates (20 men and 24 women), only 34 remain (12 men and 22 women). Of the remaining graduates, 12 live in the Islands: 18 on O'ahu, four on Hawai'i, one on Maui, and one on Moloka'i. Nine live on the mainland: three in California, one each in Colorado, North Carolina, Ohio, Virginia, Washington, and Wisconsin. The reunion committee—

Howard Benham, Fred Kamaka and Pearl Souza Cumminscontacted all class members, but could not locate Rowland Harry Melim. Class members participating in the reunion included: Arline Akina, Dawn Anahu Fernandez, Gyneve Andrews Wong, and George Baker, Lou Benham Pavich, Howard Benham, James Cockett, Leila Hohu Kiaha, Fred Kamaka, Everett Kinney, Rose-Vivian Kinney Chai, Marian Lake Boyd, Vesta Parker Will, Ione Rathburn Ryan, Ku'ualoha Saffery Callanan, William Silva, Pearl Souza Cummins, John Kalili and Edward Wilcox. At the alumni golf tournament, Dawn won first-place women's overall low-net score, and Lou took sixth-place women's overall. As a group, we voted to conduct class reunion celebrations each year and to join in the celebration of the next alumni five-year reunion at the school. Thomas Chung will chair the annual class reunion committee. Thirty people attended our class dinner at Fred's home in Kāne'ohe, and 34 attended the 'Aha'aina at Kekūhaupi'o. Our 17-member class choral group sang at the Chapel memorial service to honor the memories of Alexander Thoene, Earl Fernandez, Benjamin Kauahikaua, William Rosehill II, Evelyn Desha Rabara, Joseph Kane, James Wallace and Justina Sarmiento Kelly.

by Beverly Piilani Ellis Kinimaka

Like fine marinades, cheeses, and wine, the Class of 1949 has matured graciously and with élan. We began our reunion with a picnic at Bellows, practicing with our CloroxTM ipu. Nā kāne were kolohe, practicing arduously for our "debut" and resulting in our winning the Most Participants, Traditional, and Overall awards. We were ecstatic. Arthur Rath verbalized our consensus regarding morality taught us at Kamehameha. The 'Aha'aina was so 'ono "piha ka 'ōpū." Classmate attendees came from all parts of the U.S. to share the events of our lives. Kahu David Kaupu '51 blessed the two koa easels our class donated to the chapel, followed by an impressive memorial service for our departed classmates. Our "Colburns" picnicwas a gastronomical delightculminated with a Hawaiian quilt raffle won by Bertha Ching Kawakami and Lydia Puna Whiting Ramos. The week ended with a memorable night at the Don "Quack Quack" Ho Show and wala'au session at his restaurant. The week was awesome, sharing with our brothers and sisters and bonding for the rest of our lives. Mahalo Pauahi and the Alumni Staff.

by Ann Bowman McBirnie

From beginning to end, our 45th reunion was renewing, rewarding and a time for re-bonding. All who attended had a marvelous time; those who couldn't, you were missed. Mahalo to Daryl Jean "DJ" DuPont Aiwohi for putting activities together, keeping us informed and in puakenikeni lei from her garden. Mahalo to Clodagh Brown Ah Tou, our dorm luna, and to Jeanette and Alfred Simeona for making the beautiful seed lei for our wāhine boarders. Congratulations to Laverne Kipi Tirrell, awarded an honorary diploma by President Michael Chun '61. It was good to have the late Sam Vellocido's family at the lū'au, fulfilling his desire to attend reunion activities. Long-distance travelers included: from Hampton, Va., James "Buzzy" Pai; from Calif., Darlene Mahelona Baines of San Mateo, Jack Enad of San Jose, Betty Mae Freitas Hiram of Belmont, Roselyn Lindley Gandall of Huntington Beach, and Winifred Abbey Smith of Long Beach. From Oregon: Henry Mahi of West Linn, Margie and Halford Matthews of Coos Bay, and Walter Parker of Bend. Other mainland classmates included Anna Sam Hency of Grandview, Idaho and Ernest Ho'a of Denver, Colo. From the Island of Hawai'i came Martha

Sharon and Howard Kaohi and Arlene Battad came from Kaua'i; and Momi Inaba and Carl Puhi from Moloka'i. The O'ahu contingent included Daryl Jean "DJ" DuPont Aiwohi, Halawe Ahmad Bohreer, Genevieve Kanoe Nahulu Burns and Paul Burns, Ernest Chan and Nani Kapu Chan '55, Pua Nascimento Colburn, Janice and Neil Eldredge, Francis Forsythe, Francis Hasegawa, Albert Kahalekulu, Flo and Milton Kakaio, Viola Ahlo Kakalia, Virgie and Patrick 'Masa' Kawakami, Lei and Ted Kinimaka, Ann Bowman McBirnie, Gerry Heirakuji Meade, Donna Haili and Dennis Pang, Caroline Kauahikaua Ponce, George and Ellen Naone Sanborn, Enoch and Henrietta Kupahu Spencer, Henry and Pauline Kakalia Suizu, Barbara and Remigius Taum, Pearl and Vernon Taylor, Bob '55 and Laverne Kipi Tirrell, and Edward Wells. At Kapi'olani Nui Hale (Dorm "K") we rocked the hill each night. When Luna Clodagh awakened us

Sunday morning—with her unique rendition of Reveille, it was all too soon to say "aloha 'oe" again. So, tentative plans are for an Island of Hawai'i reunion August, 2000. Then, in 2001, a west coast caravan trip. Watch future issues of I MUA for details. Ā hui hou, e mālama kou kino.

by Antoinette Gomes Lee

The Class of 1959 started their 40th Class Reunion June 5 at the Hanohano Room with Larry Price and Michael W. Perry. Attending were Erma DeLima Tanigawa, William Wong, Robyn Ing Boehm, Wayne Chun, James Kahue, Winona Ebinger Anzalone, Clara Mahoe Motta, Winifred Chang Graham, Antoinette Gomes Lee, spouses and guests. Kekāuluohi (Dorm "M") was KS '59s residence during the reunion. The first to check in were Toni Lee and Harrub Houssein, of Las Vegas, Nev., followed by classmates Victoria Amasiu Freitas, Rocky Cashman and Estelle Cullen Cashman, Benjamin Harbottle, Gail "Pomai" Nosaka, Henry Lee, Karen Au Jue and Benedict Stillman. We shared the dorm with KS '64 and '74 (KS '64 adopted us). Their hospitality shall forever be cherished. Talent night was so much fun! The class dedicated their presentation to Roy Cachola who was ill and unable to attend. Practice sessions were held during the week. The line dancing routine was undertaken by Jane Gonsalves Kircher, Clara, Harrub, Henry, Harold Johnston, Edyne Foo-Sum Ah Sau, Toni, Aaron Makaiwi, Vicky, Estelle and Rocky, Karen, and Alexander Olsen. Benedict took charge of the music. Class Night drew over 60 attendees. Our theme "Friends," and the evening's highlights included welcoming home Marie Valpoon Leekley from Menomonee Falls, Wis., and Randolph Brandt and Norman Kahale's first reunion with us in 40 years. We enjoyed the singing of Marlene Sai and James Kahue; Randy, James, Harrub and Harold's quartet, and hula by Toni and Lana Johnston. Vicky, Karen, their spouses, Toni and Charles Kapua strung a 26-foot plumeria lei presented at the King Kamehameha Day Lei Draping Ceremony. We rode trolleys in the Floral Parade and decorated the Mauna 'Ala crypts of our Beloved Princess Bernice Pauahi and Charles Reed Bishop with plumeria lei. Also enjoying reunion were Jill Awai Kaneaiakala and Clifford Kaneaiakala, Hans Apisaloma, John Keala, Kathy Kaaihue Kimi, Elizabeth Ahana Kikuchi, Thomas Kaupu, Elizabeth Ho-a Araujo, Lani Kahakua Wong, Clifford Wong, Frances Cera Pahukoa, Alma Dutro Filioali'i, Earle Dye, Reginald Kealoha, Norman "Duke" and Kanani Anderson Kapuniai, Annette Keli'inoi Macias, Ornetta Keli'ihananui Kaaa, Roman Chai, Kenny Chang, Edward Collier, Ellen Kealoha Ramos, Gwen Apau Gibson, Gwen Meyer Higgins, Leimomi Sproat, Georgiana Kuba Jaeger, Nelson Kaai, James Saffery, Annette Kau Summerlin, Gloria Enos Wong, Freidalane Crowell Menezes and Melvin Kekuewa. At the Memorial Chapel Service we acknowledged classmates who have gone before us: Theodore Bonite, Arthur Burchett, Neville Colburn, Jerry Haliniak, Leimomi Akaka Hee, Larinette Ho, Michael Joy, Bernard Kahapea, James Kalanui, Joseph Kauo, Howard Lua, Leroy Lum Ho, Thomas Plunkett, Clifford Rodrigues, Ronald Viveiros, Isaac Wise, Helma Wright and Jahala Kittaka Wright. They shall always be remembered as an integral part of our lives. The 40th class reunion was a great time for "Friends." Together again. Thanks for the memories, KS '59. To all who attended and to those who could not, let us always remember our alma mater, Kamehameha, and stand together as proud graduates of a great institution. O wau no me ka ha'aha'a.

by Philip Sharp

Celebrating our 35th reunion, much of the time was spent sitting and talking with people we had not seen for many years. Paulette Iaea Matz flew in from Wilgartswiesen, Germany; John Hanohano joined us from Houston. We held a gathering at Natsunoya's Tea House. Touch of Gold entertained us at the lū'au. Phil Sharp, Gary Aiwohi, John Iaea, Roy Helepololei and Ed Enomoto were "called" on-stage to perform backup dancing. Gary's wife Heidi and Delight Kenoi Veincent stuffed money, Samoan style, into our clothing during the performance. Louise Kaleikini Killebrew, Wilma Lucas Putt, Patti and Mel Silva displayed more singing antics. Class night's highlight was the drawing for a custom-made 'ukulelecommemorating our reunionpartially-donated by Helen Tong Hurd and husband, David, of 'Ukulele's by Kawika in Hilo. The lucky winner was Gail Kalilikane Yette of Washington State. Door prizes included: an Alaskan King Salmon dinner donated by Jere Luka Yamada of Alaska and prepared by Delight; wili wili seed lei by Charlotte Kiilau Kaneholani and Nalani Kaakimaka O'Brien's mother, a fimo puakenikeni lei by Charlotte Kema Kamai, and a patchwork quilt donated by Charlotte. KS President Michael Chun '61 visited our dorm and expressed his appreciation to KS '64 and '59 for support of Kamehameha. Special thanks to Patti Blake Silva and committee members for their hard work. We look forward to our 40th.

by Wayne Chang

Like our T-shirts said, "Just when you thought it was safe...we're back!" Returning to Kamehameha was a boss and groovy wonder for classmates who came together from all corners: from the Pacific North West came Joslyn Noa Donlin, Donnette Paishon and Barbara Lu Nary Kniskern; from Calif., Kanani Soo Choy, Theone Otsuka Scholl, James "Kimo" Spencer and Joe Kaulukukui and both Pennies, Parker Emmons and Kamoku; from Ariz., Carol Desha

Truman; and, from Conn., Warren Dennison. Farthest-distance award went to Neal Chung, of Singapore. Our week began with the Perry and Price broadcast from the Hanohano Room. Next, about 50 classmates enjoyed a picnic at Curtis Wilmington's home where Rosalind Solomon entertained with a Hawaiian version of Pictionary. Following the Alumni Reception, we gathered at Kīna'u Hale to rehearse for Talent Night-The 5th Dimension's recording of Aquarius/Let the Sun Shine In-where "Attitude," with a capital "A," was the operative word, and Best Contemporary Performance was our ample reward. Special mahalo to astronauts Lani Bowman and Keoni Agard. Class Night heralded a progressive pūpū party, beginning with our cocktails/seafood/sushi bar adjacent to the Old Girls' School Library (a.k.a. Smith Office), where Nancy Brede Souza deemed the open ditch a perfect ambiance. Dr. Michael Chun '61 stopped by with a special presentation for Marianne Kai Glushenko. Next, Hickam Officers' Club offered more cocktails and pūpū, followed by a re-make of Kīna'u Hale for an elegant afterdinner repast. The final night saw many more classmates joining the class at the alumni lū'au. Maĥalo to KS '79 for their wonderful company; Walter and Edwarda Hasegawa Kaneakua, Janice Lopes Akau, Leslie and Curtis Wilmington, Manu Simeona Meyer, Rosalind Solomon, Wayne Chang and Nancy Brede Souza for overall coordination. And never least, to our Hawaiian Superman-Rov Horner.

Whew! Alumni reunion...a great weekend of fellowship and fun. "The Boarders" were Edward and Jackie Kaalekahi Simeona, Guy Crowell and Kanoe Williams. After each "official" event the party continued and from the stories I've heard ... the dorms are a must for our 30th! Our class was ably represented at the Alumni Golf Tournament by John Harris, Hazelyn Mahukona, Kanoe Williams, Robert Zalopany and Coreene Choy Zablan-who took women's low net winner. Class Night at Dole Cannery Ballrooms was a huge success. Mahalo to Randall Fukino and Vickie Pakele for decorations; to Roxane Prestige Kimura and husband Lindsey and Michelle Ranne Watson for the exquisite menu. It was great seeing out-of-town pals: from Calif., Scott McBirnie, Eleanor Arneson Rosa, Michael Kim and Kanoe Williams; from Ore., Debbie Cleaver Pierce-who'll be HPA's Middle School principal this fall; Rodney Rodenhurst from Wash.; from Maui, Henry Kalani Wong, Puanani Fernandez, Leslyn Paleka, Carolyn Kaui Ferreira and Eugene Aki: from the Island of Hawai'i, Keikilani Curnan, Libbijane Kaopuiki, Lois Naumu, Merwyn Laeha, Ivey Maertens, Elizabeth Lindsey, Roberta Ruddle Jaques and Stephen Kaheiki; from Kaua'i, Debra Bargamento Henton and Billy Swain; and, Curtis Crabbe from Moloka'i. Class of '70 outdid themselves. 'Aha'aina was excellent. Our gang rocked the night away. Henry Ah Loo is official lū'au chair when our class does the 'Aha'aina in 2003. At Sunday's Memorial Chapel Service we remembered departed classmates George Gaison, James Kon, Darrell Keohokalole, Rose Fontes, Lyle Hardey, and Carol Wong Chenevert. Following the service, it was off to our class picnic at Bellows. Mahalo to Ed Simeona, Henry Ah Loo, Michelle Ranne, Robert Zalopany, Harvey McInerny, Ingrid Akeo Lee, and Kelekona Bishaw for your kōkua; to all who participated in our class activities-especially those who attended committee meetings. Until we meet again, keep in touch with your class representative, Coreene, by phone: 523-6224 or e-mail cozablan@ksbe.edu.

At Alumni Reunion's Talent Night competition, "Coconut Willy" Todd Hugo led the class in a radio delight: '79s own K-DEN radio show. The first request, Happy Days are Here Again dedicated to the KS faculty, was followed by E Lei Ka Lei Lei, masterfully arranged and directed by Nephi Brown and Kealani Kekoa. With early Yuletide cheer, our class serenaded with Twelve Days of Trustees. The performance was outstanding, but on to the real entertainment at Kīna'u Hale as the classes of '79 and '69 were wooed by the talents of Robert "Lopaka" Hoopii, Nephi Brown, Keliikai Paleka, and "associate classmate" Mark Yim '78. The 'ukulele stylings of John Terada also brought ooohs and aaahs. At the Alumni Golf Tourney Noelani Cashman Aiu took the prize for the longest drive for wāhine and, not to be outdone, Derek Leong hit the longest drive for kāne. Class Night festivities held at the Prince Kūhiō Hotel where Dancine Baker Takahashi, assisted by hubby Exec Chef Henry, put together a wonderful pūpū buffet. After Saturday's lū'au our class converged again upon Kīna'u Hale for more music by Lopaka-who'll be releasing a CD soon-accompanied by Nicholas Muragin, John Terada, and Mark Yim. Hula dancers were a little scarce, but the jokes were flowing. As they say, "You had to be there." The Memorial Chapel Service was a beautiful way to end fun-filled days. Be on the lookout for a wrapup event happening at year's end, and don't forget: just five more years 'til our 25th.

KS CLASS OF 1984 by Sean K. Craig

The weekend of June 18-19 found the Class of 1984 celebrating their 15th reunion at the Hawai'i Prince Hotel Waikīkī. Our committee planned two nights. Friday, we held a poolside "beach party" complete with tacky lū'au decorations and plastic lei. Entertainment was provided by great friends of KS '84: Ken Makuakāne '73, Alden Levi '87, Jeff Rasmussen and "Taz." Saturday night's "Retro-Disco" provided even more fun. BOSE provided sound for dinner music by Lopaka Hoopii '79 and his group Loea. The seven-piece band Disco Inferno provided the capper with non-stop '70s disco. Additional "entertainment" was provided by fellow classmates Lehua Kalima and Sean Craig, who emerged in Retro outfits, Afro wigs and blue eye shadow just as Disco Inferno hit its downbeat. They really got the crowd dancing. It was as if time hadn't passed since we were all together. Mahalo to the many companies who donated prizes; to Jeff Marcello and the Hawai'i Prince Hotel Waikīkī; to BOSE for the sound; and, especially to our reunion committee: Mary Faurot Pescaia, Nadine Magnani Chang, Denise Kaaa, Gaynor Makanui Kaupu, Debbie Downey Arquette, Sydney Freitas, Renee Awai, Lehua Kalima, Sean Craig, Richard Rickard, Alika Moriguchi, Scott Kauhane and respective "other halves" who made this year's reunion memorable. Here's looking to 2004 and our 20th.

Mahalo to KS '84's reunion committee (back) Rick Rickard, Renise Haili Bayne, (middle) Rochelle LaPierre Young, Debra Downey Arquette, Lehua Kalima, Mary Faurot Pescaia, Gaynor Makanui Kaupu, Alika Moriguchi, and (front) Renee Awai, Nadine Magnani Chang, Sean Craig and Denise Kaaa.

KS '79s Talent Night offering included E Lei Ka Lei Lei.

The Alumni Welcome Reception brought together over 40 classmates, plus friends and family. Happy to see each other, we embraced and exchanged stories about the past 10 years. Although we didn't participate in Talent Night, we really enjoyed the classes who did and it has ignited a spark in us to gear up for our 2004 reunion. Hailama Farden and Darrell Kahalewai will lead the way. The highlight of our celebration was Class Night at The Ocean Club. More than 100 classmates, friends and family members came together for "Back to School Daze' with much reminiscing and shared "remember when" episodes. Our thanks to the reunion committee members and classmates who donated prizes. You greatly contributed to the success of the evening: Jason Yong, Marisa Pollard, Joy Yoshida Nakagawa, Cheryl Kanoho Maina'aupo, Matthew Samson, Mahealani Anduha, Celia Chang, and Mary Furtado Meyer. mates together for a delicious Hawaiian dinner and wonderful entertainment. The class phototaking session was a highlight. Alumni Reunion concluded with Mary Furtado Meyer representing the class at the Bishop Memorial Chapel service honoring two of our classmates. A picnic at Ala Moana Beach Park followed. There are only praises for the efforts of our reunion committee. Our classmates were so happy and everyone plans to meet again-soon. We're already planning for our 15th reunion in 2004. We can't wait. And, this time, we'll be ready!

ACADEMIC HONORS & AWARDS

Congratulations to Dartmouth sophomore Kinohi Nishikawa '97, recipient of a Presidential Scholarship allowing him to work -for two consecutive terms in his junior year-on a faculty member's professional research project in the student's department/area of major study. Dartmouth Professor of English Ivy Schweitzer will be Kinohi's mentor. Together they'll edit an anthology of colonial American literature for a major publishing company. Kinohi is also the recipient of one of Dartmouth's most sought after fellowships: The Mellon Minority Undergraduate Fellowship Program. Designed to encourage African American, Latino, and Native American students to pursue Ph.D. programs in selected disciplines-primarily the Humanities-three out of the eight Dartmouth fellowship finalists were Kamehameha graduates: Aaron Akamu '98, Walter Igawa-Silva '98 and Kinohi. Aaron is from Kapa'au, Hawai'i and Walter is from Hilo. Besides having $10,000 worth of college loans paid, the Mellon fellowship provides funding for research geared towards the writing of a senior/honors thesis in the major. Kinohi's major is English and minor is history. As an undergraduate, he will focus on contemporary American literature, American history, and multicultural studies.

Kapualokelanipōmaika'i Katherine Medeiros '99, of Anahola, Kaua'i, was recently ranked among the world's best student-scientists when she captured first prize, best of category ranking, in the medical and health category at the Intel International Science and Engineering Fair held in Philadelphia in May. Her project—"Papaya Seed: Source of an Anti-Cancer Agent?"—was judged best among 101 entries in her category. Over 1200 high-school seniors from 47 countries
