

‘Āina Scavenger Hunt

Find an invasive plant and draw or take a picture of it. Why do you think it is considered invasive?	Do you have uluhe ferns in your yard or nearby? Which structure do you think allows it to grow so high?	Do you have any other native plants in your yard, besides uluhe? Draw or take a picture of it. How do you think it got here? Make an inference.	Use your sense of touch. Find something that feels soft. Draw or take a picture of it. Do you know what it is?
Use your sense of smell. Find something that smells sweet. Draw or take a picture of it. Do you know what it is?	Is there evidence of erosion around you? If so, draw or take a picture of it.	Waiwī, or Strawberry Guava is an invasive species that grows very rapidly. What about its structures do you think allows it to grow so rapidly?	One example of how you can mālama ‘āina is to plant seeds of native plants or food to eat. Do one thing to mālama ‘āina and write what you did here.
Do you have any Koster’s Curse in your yard? If so pull it out and draw or take a picture of it.	If you observed erosion around your house, what is one thing you could do to decrease the impact of erosion in that space ?	Use your sense of hearing to kilo and listen to the sounds around you. Draw or take a picture of what you hear.	Find an igneous rock (rock made from cooled lava) and draw or take a picture it.