Aloha kākou,

In recent months we have engaged in an institution-wide strategic planning process that has analyzed Kamehameha Schools Bishop Estate from every conceivable angle. In this process we have assessed both our internal and external environments, goals and expectations, as well as the realities and limitations – physical, fiscal and regulatory – of our resources.

This process arose from what is known as "Stipulation No. 13: Strategic Planning Shall Be Implemented." This court order – emerging from the October 2, 1998 Stipulations Concerning the Master's Recommendations and Order – directed that the project develop an educational plan in conjunction with an investment plan that will serve to successfully attain our educational goals while insuring the perpetual mandate of the Trust.

At the outset of this strategic planning effort, we requested input from key KSBE resources – our faculty, staff, students, alumni, parents, and various Hawaiian organizations. In the months that have followed, the grand Hawaiian traditions of kōkua and laulima have risen to meet our great challenge. Persons from every walk of life with every imaginable association with this historic institution have come forward with overwhelmingly positive, creative, thoughtful considerations and ideas to share, to offer, and to weave into the tapestry of KSBE's bright future.

Together we have identified and reemphasized the strategic issues that impact our mission, vision, values, and goals. Together, we have reached some consensus on the fundamental challenges facing our mandates, educational programs, support services, costs, financing, organization, and management.

Now, with this first phase of planning underway, we will finish gathering the data and begin to formulate our overall strategy for bringing our educational and endowment plan into balance. And, we will continue to share our work with you as you have so openly and graciously shared your mana'ō with us. For there are few things so true as the concepts found within this timeless Hawaiian proverb: 'A'ohē hana nui ke alu 'ia – No task is too big when done together by all.

I Mua Kamehameha!

SHORT TAKES

Kamehameha Secondary School was named "Cool School of the Month" in Teen People magazine's September issue.

Two separate feature stories on Kapua Medeiros' '99 "Best in Category" – i.e., best in the world – showing at the Intel™ International Science and Engineering Fair appeared in Honolulu and Island Business magazines. Also featured in Island Business' October issue was a cover story devoted to Maui Mayor James "Kimo" Apana '80.

The Presidential Award for Excellence in mathematics and science teaching honored four Hawai'i teachers in 1999. One of them was Kamehameha Elementary School teacher Bev Kutsunai, whose innovative teaching tools have included "Family Science Night" – a jammed-to-the-rafters, fun-for-the-whole-family event now in its second year at KES.

ALOHA KSBE 'OHANA

Aloha KSBE 'Ohana,

Like the 1999 year, the information gathering phase of KSBE's strategic planning process is winding down. By the end of January, we will have received input from our staff and faculty, parents, students, alumni and the broader community regarding KSBE's educational role in developing and maintaining a thriving Hawaiian community.

The amount of input we've received in the last two months is staggering. Hundreds of people have contributed their thoughts via our informational meetings, focus groups, our KSBE website, surveys, telephone hot-line, fax, e-mail and snail mail.

At first glance, the comments we received cover a broad spectrum of educational needs. However, as we analyze the feedback as well as other educational assessments, we will crystalize a vision for how KSBE will position its educational efforts to have the greatest impact on Hawaiians in the next century.

A draft of the resulting strategic plan will be shared in the coming months. If you have shared your mana'o with us, mahalo. If you have not, but would like to, please don't hesitate to visit our Strategic Planning website at www.ksbe.edu, e-mail us at ksbeplan@ksbe.edu, fax us at (808) 842-8170, write to KS Strategic Planning, 1887 Makuakāne Street, Honolulu, HI 96817, or call the toll-free Strategic Planning Hotline at 1(877) KS-KOKUA (575-6582). We value your input in this important process.

Me ke aloha pumehana,

Michael J. Chun, Ph.D.

Of some 19th century lives, grainy daguerreotype portraiture is all that remains of once-living, once-vital beings. Every family has them. Ke Ali'i Pauahi is not among these.

Ke Ali'i Pauahi is profoundly alive today. She lives within the hearts, minds and good works of thousands of students and graduates of Kamehameha Schools who are today joining with faculty, staff and the larger Hawaiian community to affect the history of our future.

As Trustee Constance Lau, Acting Chief Operating Officer (ACOO) Nathan Aipa, and Dr. Michael Chun, president of Kamehameha Schools, unveiled KSBE's plan for strategic planning, our extended 'ohana are meeting, deliberating, questioning, sharing mana'o, and helping gather data for the purpose of charting the future of Kamehameha Schools Bernice Pauahi Bishop Estate.

"We're not starting from ground zero," Aipa said recently during a staff planning presentation. "There are certain fundamentals and milestones that have been established by the Board of Trustees and have already been approved by the Court. This strategic planning process now underway will help us get closer to our vision, our ideal of reaching more and more students of Hawaiian ancestry, while protecting the endowment in perpetuity.”

Decreed by Probate Court order of October 2, 1998 – entitled Stipulation No. 13: Strategic Planning Shall Be Implemented [see pg. 7]– the strategic planning process started in October 1999.

The strategic plans – both educational and endowment (asset) planning – are governed by and responsible to several mandates or “givens.” First, the Will of Ke Ali’i Pauahi will remain the framework for the planning goals. Second, the educational mission of the Trust requires that all plans proceed from the fundamental concept that the Trust was established to exist forever. Third, fiscal responsibility means that all plans must evolve within a responsible allocation of funds based on the income of the Trust. And, fourth, as mandated by Stipulation No. 13, that strategic plans will exist in a constant state of review and refinement through continuous input and re-evaluation by our KSBE ‘ohana.

“Strategic plans for Kamehameha have been formulated regularly throughout its history,” comments Dr. Michael Chun. “They have resulted in many innovations, including early education research and services, community partnerships, federal grants, college financial aid and neighbor island schools. However, there are many more Hawaiian educational needs that are not being met. Of those, we want to identify and prioritize the needs that Kamehameha can best address.”

KSBE's strategic planning process will be discussed in an ongoing series of staff and public meetings presented by ACOO Aipa and Dr. Chun. The data will be assessed and the initial strategy formulated from the information gathered. In spring, the next stage will constitute a time to review and adopt a Strategic Plan incorporating both educational and endowment aspects of KSBE. Finally, operational and organizational action plans will be fine-tuned and implemented.

The decision-making process for strategic planning will itself proceed inclusively. Staff will form their one-year action plans and goals through shared knowledge and expertise. Five-year tactical plans will flow from this foundation in support of KSBE's longer-term strategic plans. Trustees will then evaluate the success of the strategies based on the mandates, goals, and 20- to 50-year vision for this institution.

Then it will begin again. Assessment and reassessment of the plan will be ongoing. For only in this way might KSBE steadily seek better and more efficient ways to maximize our educational commitment and operational integrity.

Gazing upon the century-old image of Ke Ali'i Pauahi that graces IMUA's cover, her eyes seem to beckon us to follow her into the next thousand years. It's as if she's asking each and every one of us to play our parts in perpetuating her living legacy – to guide and suggest; to commit and to give; to evaluate and re-evaluate – and together, through an evolving strategic planning process, to write the history of our future.

New KS Maui Campus Opens

By Lāhela Leiawapuhike'oke'o Lindsey KS '00

On August 23, over 3,000 students arrived at Kamehameha Schools' campuses for the start of a new school year. That same day on Maui, 152 students embarked on their first school year at the first permanent Kamehameha Schools' campus on a neighbor island – the brand new 100-acre Maui Campus at Pukalani.

During the dedication ceremony, Kamehameha Schools' Chaplain Kahu David Kaupu '51 explained that the campus is located in the ahupua'a known as 'A'apueo (valiant owl).

Plans for the school started four years ago, and the site for the campus was set by 1996. Phase I of campus construction hosts four operational buildings and a gatehouse—a total of seven buildings will be completed within the next year – on 15 acres of current construction, which today serves kindergarten through sixth grade students. According to KSBE projections, the cost of the entire Phase I construction is about $15 million. By next year, in Phase II, the campus will be extended to include facilities to accommodate grades seven and eight. According to Dr. Michael Chun '61, president of Kamehameha Schools, there is a possibility that the campus could expand to serve high school students as well.

THE DEDICATION CEREMONY

Although classes started on August 23, August 30 was chosen for the campus dedication. A pule offered by Kahu Kekapa Lee '64, pastor of Waiola Church in Lahaina, began the ceremony. After the students sang the Doxology, Maui campus Principal Mrs. Cordy MacLaughlin spoke about how excited she was to see Kamehameha Schools expand to Maui.

"The new school is an extension of Pauahi's legacy on Maui," said Mrs. MacLaughlin. "I enjoy being the principal of this new campus because I get to see our students grow educationally, culturally, and spiritually."

Following Mrs. MacLaughlin's remarks, speeches were given by Dr. Chun, as well as by Interim Trustee Admiral Robert Kihune '55. Next, the students sang "Pauahi Nona ka Lei," and a dedication chant was offered by kumu hula Hökūlani Holt-Padilla '69. Kahu Kalani Wong '74, pastor of Wailuku's 'Iao Congregational Church, officially blessed the school. A ceremonial untying of a maile lei and ho'okupu followed. Kahu Kaupu then delivered his closing thoughts, followed by the students singing "Kaulana nā Pua" and "Sons of Hawai'i."

STUDENTS AND PARENTS

When the crowd was dismissed, the students returned to their classrooms for lunch. The spacious classrooms had all the furnishings of a typical elementary classroom on the Kapālama campus. Students in third grade teacher Mrs. Lois Nishikawa's class said that they liked the education they were receiving from strict, but good teachers. They also mentioned that this was the "best school on Maui," and that they are very appreciative of Pauahi because "she gave us everything."

"I like making friends here, and I am thankful for the opportunity I have to come here, because I can learn here better than at any other school," said third grader Amber Leigh Pavao.

The students' parents were also present at this dedication ceremony. These parents expressed their gratitude for an exquisite Maui campus and for the many educational opportunities that Kamehameha offers to their children.

"Kamehameha offers so much educationally to the students," said third grade parent Joyce Aloy. "I also like the 'ohana atmosphere here and the closeness of the staff, students, and parents. Expanding campuses to the neighbor islands is a wonderful idea, because the schools are able to service more Hawaiian children."

LOOKING TO THE FUTURE

It is not clear at this writing whether or not more schools will be built on other neighbor islands, but Dr. Chun said that there are definite plans for the completion of a permanent campus in Kea'au within the next two years. He added that with other campuses available, more students could benefit from the legacy of Pauahi.

"It is very exciting that we have started expanding with the establishment of the new school on Maui," said Dr. Chun. "This is only part of the long-term strategy to extend our services to Hawaiian youth throughout the state."

The author, 17-year old KS senior Lāhela Leiawapuhi-ke'oke'o Lindsey, is co-editor of Kamehameha Schools' Ka Mō'ī student newspaper for the 1999/2000 school year.

Lāhela lives in Kāne'ohe with her parents Albert and Debbie Lindsey. She has one brother, Albert, a sophomore at Kamehameha, and one sister, Nānea, 11. Besides her journalistic interests, Lāhela dances hula, is on KS' speech and debate team, runs cross country, is treasurer of Amnesty International, and is an active Girl Scout.

PHASE I CONSTRUCTION

Phase I construction has been completed. Besides a 1,744-sq. foot Caretaker Residence/Service Center and Entry Gatehouse, the buildings are:

Pai'ea Administration Building – 25,158 sq. ft.

(Pai'ea, Kamehameha I's childhood name) This two-story facility serves as the main entry to the instructional areas on campus. With over 25,000 square feet of floor space, the building will house administrative offices, a media center/library, teacher work areas, three grade level classrooms (6, 7 and 8), specialty art and science classrooms, and grades 6-8 computer laboratory.

Kauikeaouli Building – 7,011 sq. ft.

Named for Kamehameha III, the Kauikeaouli Building is a single story building housing classrooms for grade levels 4 and 5, an art/science classroom, and a K-5 computer laboratory.

Kaheheimālie Building – 6,969 sq. ft.

Named in honor of the high chiefess Kaheheimālie, daughter of Ke'eaumoku and Nāmāhana and a favorite wife of Kamehameha I, the Kaheheimālie Building is also a single story, four classroom building housing grades K-3.

PHASE II CONSTRUCTION

Currently underway, Phase II construction of the Kamehameha Schools Maui Campus is expected to be completed in early 2000. Included structures are:

Nāmāhana Cafetorium – 20,104 sq. ft.

Named for the high chiefess Nāmāhana, daughter of the Maui chief Kekaulike, and wife of Kamehameha-Nui and Ke'eaumoku, the L-shaped single story building fronting the courtyard will provide a cafetorium with stage, kitchen and serving areas, a meeting room, a band/music room, and custodial service center.

Kahekili Gymnasium – 16,873 sq. ft.

Sometimes called the "father of Kamehameha I," Kahekili was the great Maui chief who controlled both O'ahu and Moloka'i before Kamehameha I's unification of the islands. Kahekili Gymnasium will house both playing court and locker room facilities.

IT'S NOT EVERYDAY THAT A PRINCESS VISITS

During the reign of the Meiji emperor (1868-1912), the people of Japan began an arduous journey into modern nationhood. Reforms, including compulsory education, were soon well under way. Historians mark the transitional year as 1885. In that same year, on another island thousands of miles distant, a group of men – trustees of the will of another royal – began their arduous journey to establish a modern educational institution. Within two years, Kamehameha Schools opened its doors.

Two royal lines separated by geography, culture, and history – yet unusually parallel – met this past September when Her Royal Highness Princess Sayako, the 30-year-old only daughter of Emperor Akihito and Empress Michiko of Japan, asked to spend part of her tightly-scheduled island holiday paying her respects to the living legacy of a Hawaiian princess, Ke Ali'i Pauahi.

The diminutive, soft-spoken Princess Sayako was obviously taken with her Kamehameha welcome.

An oli kahea announced her arrival. During the chant, the royal entourage was escorted from curbside to the ceremony site, where she met Trustee Robert Kihune '55, Dr. Michael Chun '61, Principal Tony Ramos '58, and Student Body President T. J. Auld '00. A chant and dance of welcome performed by the students, under the direction of Randie Fong '78, greeted her. Her response was warm and receptive. She showed genuine interest.

Although her scheduled visit allowed for only a five-minute tour of the Chapel and the Heritage Center, the princess respectfully removed her shoes, stepped into slippers and, escorted by Dr. Chun, explored Pauahi's memorabilia for an extended 15 minutes.

She took great interest in those gathered to meet her, especially the students, pausing to speak to them as they gathered in a semi-circle around her.

The Princess' entourage then proceeded to Konia Circle, where students jammed the hallways, peeking through the portals as politely as possible to glimpse a princess.

"Students lined up at Konia and above," said Ramos, "on the lānai, along driveways, and waved to her as she came onto campus. She demonstrated such dignity and our students responded in kind." She didn't disappoint. She smiled and waved back.

TOP—Students at Konia Hall lined up to glimpse a royal visitor.

At Konia, Princess Sayako visited Sensei Junko Lowry's 8th period Japanese language class, clearly impressed by the students' ability to converse in her native tongue. She went from desk to desk. She marveled at our students writing e-mail to Okinawan pen pals in kanji (modern Japanese characters) on their computers.

"She showed such interest in the students," said Junko. "The children spoke to her in Japanese and some English," said Junko. "I had to help a few of them, they were a little nervous."

The end of this magical meeting of two royal heritages came when her Royal Highness was escorted back to Puna Gate.

In her time on campus, she gifted Kamehameha with a book of poetry that had been translated into English by her mother, the Empress Michiko. In turn, Princess Sayako was gifted with an album of poetry, good wishes, and prayers for the children of Japan, written by our students. "I will always treasure this," the Princess said.

With Kamehameha, Princess Sayako shared the legacy of Japan's royal heritage dating, in direct line, from the first emperor Jimmu (660-585 BC) to her father, Akihito, the 125th reigning emperor (1989-present), and an appreciation for young people and education. From Kamehameha, she received the aloha of another living royal legacy, the children of Ke Ali'i Pauahi who so appreciated her visit.

KSBE IN THE NEWS

Ask anyone who saw her, who heard her speak, who experienced this special moment in our history. You'll hear the same endearing adjectives rush forth that have followed her throughout her visit to our islands – "warm, soft spoken, genuine, humble, interested, and dignified."

It was quite a day. As student Zuri Aki '00 put it, "It's not every day that a princess visits this school." It wasn't an ordinary day for Princess Sayako either. She left Kapālama behind schedule.

NEW BOOK PROFILES CHARLES, PAUAI

"They were, in fact, co-leaders of an intellectual, financial and spiritual enterprise that left behind one of the nation's richest, most powerful and lasting educational enterprises, the Bishop Estate/Kamehameha Schools [sic]."

– Jerry Burris,
The Honolulu Advertiser
April 11, 1999

Defining a style of leadership that has profoundly affected institutions in the past and could do much to influence them today, Co-Leaders: The Power of Great Partnerships, written by Honolulu resident and Campbell Estate Trustee David A. Heenan and USC Professor of Business Administration Warren Bennis, uses as a prime example of co-leaders the life's work and legacy of Ke Ali'i Pauahi and Charles Reed Bishop.

In Burris' review of the work, he states: "...Bernice Pauahi Bishop and Charles Reed Bishop were far more than leader and follower, or even husband and wife..."

"Pauahi's vision for her people and her fortune married perfectly with Bishop's drive to achieve financial stability, his skills and management and his fierce determination to follow through on the dream of his royal wife."

COMING SOON: YEAR 2000 EDITION – KAMEHAMEHA ALUMNI DIRECTORY!

At the Alumni & Parents Advancement Center (APAC), pre-production is underway on the Kamehameha Schools Alumni Directory, scheduled for a winter 2000 release. The all-new register will be the most complete, up-to-date reference ever compiled on Kamehameha Schools' 18,000 plus living alumni. Now it will be easier than ever to keep in touch with old friends.

KSBE has selected the Bernard C. Harris Publishing Company, Inc., to produce the 2000 edition of our Alumni Directory. With over 35 years of experience in the industry and a reputation of excellence, Harris is sure to once again produce a directory of the highest quality for Kamehameha alumni.

Meanwhile, APAC – via Harris Publishing – will be collecting information by way of an alumni questionnaire and then arranging that data into five categories. Each complete listing in the Biographical Section will include home address and names of spouse and children (if applicable) as well as business and professional information. Each name will also appear in four other sections of our directory: class year, geographic location, career networking and e-mail address (when available). Alumni will even be able to locate classmates listed under their current name, as well as the name they used as a student, i.e., maiden name. In addition, the directory will contain a special historical overview of Kamehameha Schools Bishop Estate – reviewing our past even as we prepare for the exciting future of our illustrious alma mater.

Compiling an up-to-date alumni directory is a massive undertaking and APAC and Harris Publishing will need your kōkua to make it possible. Important information about our compilation process and a questionnaire will be mailed to all graduates in the very near future. So, keep your eye on the mail!

In the meantime, we're in preparation for the year 2000. We extend to all of you, warm wishes for a bright and merry holiday season abounding with good cheer, fellowship and joy.

Until we wala'au again, take care and a hui hou!

TRDITIONAL CONCEPTS/CONTEMPORARY ISSUES

Congratulations to William C. "Bill" Rezendes III '76 whose new book Ka Lama Kukui – Hawaiian Psychology: An Introduction was released in November. A doctor of psychology and practicing therapist, instructor and researcher, Bill's work is a guide to culturally relevant therapy and healing for Hawaiians that attempts to integrate and bridge Hawaiian culture and Western psychology.

For Rezendes – who specializes in individual and family transcultural therapy – Ka Lama Kukui-Hawaiian Psychology is his first book. Written for therapists and healers as well as interested lay persons, the work synthesizes traditional Hawaiian concepts and practices with contemporary issues and approaches.

Ka Lama Kukui – Hawaiian Psychology: An Introduction is published by 'A'ali'i Books.

1940s

Over one hundred members and their families of the class of '48 – "The Great 48" – gathered at Elmer Manley's Kawela Bay beach home to celebrate their annual 'ohana picnic. Albert "Cowboy" Silva provided the roast pig and beef, Gene Naipo served as chief chef, and Hale Auld contributed salmon he caught in Washington state. Class president, Aletha Goodwin Kaohi from Kaua'i furnished the 'ono poi from her very own lo'i. Samuel "Tucky" Seto from Oregon – delayed by one day – was nobly represented by his children and grandchildren, many of whom are graduates of or students at Kamehameha.

1950s

Like mother, like daughter... Gloriann Moikeha Akau '52 is proud of her daughter Aloha Festivals' 1999 Queen Nani Sakaguchi. Gloriann was Aloha Festivals' (then Aloha Week) queen in 1972. Now living in Waimea, Hawai'i, she has served as Aloha Festivals' island manager for the past seven years.

KS Alumni Glee Club

President Clifford Carpenter '55 invites male graduates to join the group. The club performs at various public and social functions throughout the year. Interested persons should contact Clifford at 235-9570 or Robert "Bobby" Moore '47 at 845-3397.

Jacqueline "Jackie" Mahi Erickson '58, Hawaiian Electric Company's (HECO) vice president of customer operations/general counsel, oversees customer and energy service operations and HECO's legal and land departments. Active in professional and community service, Jackie serves on the Legal Committee of the Edison Electric Institute and both the American and Hawai'i State Bar Associations. She also serves as a director of the Honolulu Symphony Board, Native Hawaiian Revolving Loan Fund, and Hawai'i Appleseed Public Interest Law Center.

1960s

Congratulations to Constance Puou Freeman '60 and Mary Jane Kong-Doyle '60 who have both turned in their office keys and uniforms as part of their retirement rituals. Friends forever, they have a combined 75 working years between them: Constance with 37 years at the US Postal Service, and Mary Jane with 38 years at Bank of America. The classmates plan an active retirement filled with volunteer work and world travel. Connie has already motorcycled throughout the US.

Newly retired KS '60 California classmates Mary Jane Kong-Doyle of Petaluma and Constance Puou Freeman of Torrance share a celebratory moment

Keani Kahaulopua Taylor '61 recently enjoyed a spiritually and emotionally moving experience as both participant and performer in a hula 'auana workshop and concert given by Kekuhi Kanahele at the Bishop Museum. The impact of learning Kekuhi's Pele style of dancing brought "chicken skin" memories of Keaukaha, Hawai'i – where Keani's father grew up and where Keani spent many childhood summers. Keani is employed with the law firm of Cades Schutte Fleming & Wright.

Rockne Freitas '63 serves on the Department of Hawaiian Home Lands Commission representing O'ahu, with fellow O'ahu Kathleen Enos Thurston '75 and Wonda Mae Won Agpalsa '67. Herring Kalua '89 represents East Hawai'i.

Class representative Donnalei Smythe '65 reports that the class reunion planning committee has been meeting to set up plans for June 2000. The committee needs to hear from classmates regarding what activities they'd like and how many will be attending Reunion Celebration 2000. More meetings are being scheduled and the committee requests their class' involvement and kōkua. A successful kālua pig fundraiser was held in October to help support reunion activities. Look for a newsletter that will ask for feedback from all classmates. Any questions? Call, fax or e-mail John Hirota (637-4074), Connie Vincent (621-2622), Moana Fernandez Sherbert (236-2403), Sylvia Heen Fukuda (263-3760), or Donnalei (595-3983).

Class representative Kathie Reis '67 reports that Ah Ching "Sonny" and Sharlette Keli'ikipi Poe have their hands full with a newly adopted nephew who keeps them busy attending soccer games and other sports functions. The Poe's oldest daughter Sharlette Leinani '90 has moved to Iowa. Youngest daughter Sonelle K. '97 is in the US Marine Corps.

The all-alumni Noa family celebrates '71s James K. Noa Jr.'s Meritorious Service Medal (l-r), Joanne Noa Asing '81, Elaine Doo Noa '47, James Jr., James K. Noa Sr. '47, and Joslyn Noa Donlin '69

Congratulations to Iwalani and Leighton Tseu '67 whose daughter Aureana, a junior at Kamehameha, represented Hawai'i in the Miss Teen USA competition in Louisiana this summer.

Darlene Ferreira Burgess '67 and husband John flew in from Marysville, Wash., for some R & R this summer on O'ahu and Kaua'i.

Rachelle Momi Lutz Fitchett '67 was seen at the Honolulu Federal Courthouse performing her jury duty obligation. Based in Honolulu, she's been flying the friendly skies of United for 30 years.

Congratulations to '67's Betty Pokipala Karratti and Sandra Maka Kaleohano, their oldest daughters made them first-time grandmothers.

When Jerome Cordeiro '67 was a Kamehameha student, he was flying around the track field as a competitor. Fast-forward to 1999 and he's flying in another sphere – he's just earned his pilot's license. His next goal is to become instrument-rated. Jerome took up flying because his wife thought paragliding was too dangerous. Meanwhile, Jerome's brother Pastor Wayne Cordeiro – of O'ahu's New Hope Christian Fellowship – declined Jerome's recent invitation to fly with him. Is there a message in that?

Classmates descended on Gail and William McClellan's '67 Ka'a'awa home for a mini get-together before taking off in October – as a class – for their collective 50th birthday celebration in Las Vegas. Hau'oli lā hānau, KS Class of 1967!

Congratulations to Alika Neves '67 on completing 20 years of service at KSBF where he is the West Honolulu land manager in the Asset Management Division.

Sharon Sagon Minor '67 and her husband Mario enjoy life on a two-acre farm in Merced, Calif. Sharon works as an x-ray technician at a medical center near her home.

Charles Young '69 and his wife Corinne reside in Kaunakakai, Moloka'i, where Charles owns CY Electric. Of their four children, the two older boys help dad with the family business.

1970s

The 1999 Alumni Lū'au Committee sends a belated but no less sincere mahalo nui loa to classmates, families and friends who helped to make the reunion lū'au an outstanding success! A detailed report and preliminary planning for the 30th reunion is forthcoming. In October, about 20 classmates and spouses tailgated at Aloha Stadium before the Kamehameha vs. 'Iolani football game. Fred

Mattson '70 spearheaded the informal gathering and Johnny Wong '70 organized a pre-party golf outing at Mākaha West.

Sergeant Major Curt Lam Ho '70 recently returned home after spending many years in the mainland. He is currently with Military Intelligence at Pearl Harbor. Kirk Durante '70, now living in Virginia, took the helm as president of the KSAA East Coast Region in November.

Congratulations to Claire Lock Asam '70 recently appointed Executive Director of the Queen Lili'uokalani Children's Centers. Previously KES' curriculum and assessment coordinator, Claire graduated in July with a doctorate in educational administration from UH-Mānoa.

In July, Bennie Atkinson III '70 retired as a lieutenant with the Honolulu Police Department after 27 years of service and as president of State of Hawai'i Organization of Police Officers (SHOPO). He's now with the Police Department in Portland, Ore.

Congratulations to James K. Noa Jr. '71, awarded the Defense Department's Meritorious Service Medal (First Oak Leaf Cluster) in June for meritorious service as Chief, Medical Operations Branch, US Pacific Command, Camp Smith, Hawai'i. The citation credited him with spearheading the "concept and deployment of numerous total force, joint medical contact teams to 19 nations to perform humanitarian assistance/disaster relief operations." Rear Admiral Dennis I. Wright, Pacific Command Surgeon, presided over James' retirement ceremony at the Hickam Officer's Club. Among his honors were the Certificate of Retirement from President Bill Clinton and a Hawaiian flag and congratulatory letter from Governor Ben Cayetano citing his 22 years with the US Air Force. Among family, friends and co-workers in attendance were '71 classmates Joseph Kahiapo and Susan Kapunia Kahiapo, Teresa Makuakane-Drechsel, Douglas Neal Ernst, Lenox "Kalani" Chock, Dawn Farm-Ramsey, Lonna Kam Maile, Denise Kekuna, Neil "Tubby" Teves, Roy Spencer, and Vaughn Vasconcellos. Also, Joslyn Noa Donlin '69, Joanne Noa Asing '81, Juanita Noa Cardus '47, Arthur Doo '42, Darrell Bactad '83, and his parents James K. Noa Sr. '47 and Elaine Doo Noa '47. James is now an associate of MTS Technologies, Inc., an Arlington, Va., management consulting firm with an office at Camp Smith. MTS often works with classmate Vaughn Vasconcellos' firm AKIMEKA.

Class representative Coreene Choy Zablan '74 reports that as part of their 25th reunion activities, the class of '74 held a mini golf tournament at the Kāne'ohe Klipper Golf Course. Among the "duffers" were: Guy Crowell, Howard Bode, John Donlin, John Harris, Ed Simeona, Alan Awana, Hazelyn Mahukona, Signa Tannehill, Robert Zalopany, and Coreene. The hard-working helpers included Henry Ah Loo, Jina Hugo, Randy Fukino, and Jimmy Lui Kwan. Catherine Puamana Crabbe attended the pā'ina and donated some of her new golf creations as prizes. The major sponsor of the event was Ray Sagum '77 of Hawaiian Flex and Fitness.

Washington state Governor Gary Locke has appointed Ellen Kalama Clark '74 as a judge of the Superior Court of Spokane County. Since 1993, Ellen has served as a court commissioner in Spokane, concentrating in family law and dependency hearings. She is a graduate of Gonzaga University Law School.

Kahu Henry Kalani Wong '74, associate pastor of 'Īao Congregational Church in Wailuku, played a major part in the KS Maui Campus opening ceremonies by officially blessing the campus.

KS '80's "Fun Raisers" (l-r) Carter Kamana, Boyd Yap, Tom Yamashita, Albert Chee and Wayne Toyama

Edward Kalama '76 is currently managing editor for community publications with PMP Publishing Co. in Wahiawā.

William L. Thomas '77 has accepted a position in the Internal Medicine residency program at the Queen's Medical Center in Honolulu. He is a recipient of the federally-funded Native Hawaiian Health Scholarship Grant administered by KSBE. After completing his residency, William plans to serve the Hawaiian community by providing primary health care in Hawai'i. In addition to work in clinical medicine, he is involved in neuropharmacology research and has published several times in that field. William is a graduate of the UH-Mānoa's John A. Burns School of Medicine and was president of his class.

1980s

Class representative Ellen Pohai Grambusch Ryan '80 reports that KS '80 has a private mailing address. Mail correspondence to: Kamehameha Schools Class of 1980, 20th Reunion Committee, 305 Hahani Street PMB #146, Kailua, Hawai'i 96734. The class recently completed its second fundraiser "Don't stop 'til you get enough...of the 70's" at the former Punani's nightclub.

Congratulations to Dorene Kehaulani "Makani" Lum '81 on her recent promotion. Dorene is now Oceanic Cable's first female service technician. She has been with the company for 17 years where she started as an installer.

Alane Albao Aihara '81 was recently named account manager for Sprint Hawai'i where she works primarily with Waikīki hotels. Alane also services Kaua'i and the island of Hawai'i. Prior to joining Sprint Hawai'i, Alane was a marketing representative for Xerox.

Korina Hanohano Jung's '82 artistic flair has led to an expansion of her company Grafix Ink, which provides graphic design, ad layout, logos, website design and now custom silk screen and embroidery services. Korina's also a busy mom to three active boys: Thomas, a 16 year old junior at Kamehameha; Theo, 14, at Mid Pacific Institute; and Ethan, 14 months.

Congratulations to doctoral candidate, Carolyn Cachola Abad '82 – currently on a one-year sabbatical from teaching social studies at Kamehameha – who was recently awarded the AAA Minority Fellowship for the year 1999-2000 at UH-Mānoa.

Fred DeAngelo '85, chef at Honolulu's renowned Palomino Restaurant, recently headed a team of five Palomino specialty chefs to the James Beard House in New York. Some of the cuisine is now especially prepared for Palomino Honolulu.

Judge Ellen Kalama Clark '74

ALUMNI CLASS NEWS

Adrienne Pikake Renaud-Cashman '85 is a 9th grade level counselor at Kamehameha. Previously a counselor at King Intermediate, Kalāheo High School, and Olomana School, Pikake received her bachelor's degree in communications and Hawaiian studies from UH-Mānoa. She took her master's in counseling psychology from Chaminade University. Adrienne and her husband, Edward Cashman '84, a dorm advisor at Kamehameha, have two daughters, Pili'aloa, age 8, and Uluwehi, age 6.

Congratulations to Micah A. Kane '87 recently named executive director of the Republican Party of Hawai'i. A former government affairs liaison with the Building Industry Association of Hawai'i, Micah got his bachelor's degree at Menlo College before taking his master's in business administration at UH-Mānoa. Singing his praises, GOP Chair Linda Lingle said, "Micah represents the future of the Republican Party – people who are committed to Hawai'i and who want to raise their children here."

Joelle Ahuna Lee '87 teaches kindergarten at Maryknoll School in Honolulu. Joelle's husband Edward Eugene Lee '87 is with the Air National Guard.

Cary Masuko '88 taught at Chase Middle School in Spokane, Wash., and worked as a dorm advisor at Kamehameha before he assumed his present position as a physical education teacher at Kamehameha. He is a graduate of Eastern Washington State University.

Lokelani Ah Yo Aulds '89 writes that she and husband Ed now live in Yuma, Ariz. They have four sons: Christopher Kalani Mills, 5; Austin Edward Aulds, 4; Brenton Keone Mills, 3; and, Dallas Keahi Lee Aulds, 1.

Gail Makuakāne-Lundin '73, interim vice-chancellor for student affairs and coordinator of the University of Hawai'i at Hilo's Hawaiian Leadership Program, facilitated the signing of a student/faculty exchange agreement between New Zealand's University of Waikato and UH-Hilo. In the summer of 1998, Gail visited the Waikato campus to revive discussions begun nearly seven years prior with UH-Hilo's Hawaiian Language Department. By fall of that year, the agreement was formally executed. In August of this year, in conjunction with the World Indigenous Peoples' Conference on Education in Hilo, a formal ceremony was held at the UH-Hilo Campus to acknowledge the agreement's signing. Other representatives of Hilo's Hawaiian Language College included Dr. Kalena Silva '71, director of Ka Haka 'Ula O Ke'elikōlani, Assistant Professor Larry Kimura '65, and Kauanoē Kamana Wilson '69, an assistant professor at UH-Hilo and principal of Nawahiokalani'opu'u Hawaiian Immersion School at Kea'au.

Kailikepaokamoana Lyman '94 recently presented his academic research project titled, "Photographic Archaeology: The Walla Walla River South Fork Aqueduct" to the Whitman College Undergraduate Conference. Kaili is pursuing graduate work in history.

From Chapman College in Orange, Ca., Kimberly Kehau Carman '98 reports that KS '99 graduates Elizabeth Fernandez, Heather Imai, Maile Ginger Ripp and Lauren Tong are adjusting well to their new college environment. She hopes to see more of them at campus functions as the school year progresses.

Moani Vertido '98 is a sophomore at University of Washington majoring in pediatric nursing. In addition to being a full-time student, Moani works as a hostess/reservationist at Anthony's Pier 66 restaurant in Seattle. Before leaving for college in the fall of 1998, Moani worked as a model. Her latest "shoot" can be seen in the October 5 issue of Travel & Leisure magazine. Another recent assignment was the International Microsoft Convention in Seattle. Moani invites Seattle area alumni to stop by the restaurant to say "aloha."

“I Remember When...”

Nip Akona '33 at Kamehameha

I entered Kamehameha in 1927 from my home in Waimea, Hawai'i. In those days, I used to travel to and from Honolulu on the Parker Ranch cattle boat, Humu'ula, sleeping out on the deck. On my vacations home I worked in the Parker Ranch store, and it was through that connection that I later got cabin accommodations rather than having to sleep on the deck.

After vacation holidays, when it was time to return to O'ahu, I refused to go back to school because I would be so homesick. However, on returning, I found my name on the honor roll, which came with certain perks, so I decided to stay on as a student. Beyond a doubt, that was one of the best decisions I ever made.

Memories are still vivid of the days spent as a student at Kamehameha. We lived in dormitories B and D on the Bishop Museum grounds where every morning we awoke to the sound of the bugle call. We would exercise outside our dormitory, freshen up, sit for breakfast, and then attend half-hour classes. During dinner, we would have poi every day. For seconds, we would go back into the kitchen to refill our plates.

I remember Kalākaua School was all canefield, and we would harvest the crop and take it to the plantation. We were trained to be good farmers. There was a dairy and piggery nearby. Students learned to milk cows and raise pigs to kālua for a future lū'au. Every week a group of students went out to what is now Hawai'i Kai to work in the vegetable gardens.

Sometimes we would plant trees, just as we did in the nearby hills behind the school.

I remember singing at Song Contest in the early 1930s. It was a much smaller event then but winning was a major goal. Alas, to our dismay, our class never won – but we did receive the loudest applause. And I remember when being a KSB cadet meant attending a school with high standards and a special kind of pride. I remember being a member of the Kodak Club at Kamehameha, taking and developing photos of student activities. A highlight of my years at Kamehameha was winning the Harvard Book Award, which was given to the junior student with the highest grade point average. Along with the award came $50 from Trustee William Williamson. Back in 1932, $50 was a significant amount of money. My chosen field was business and as a student I remember working part-time at Lewers and Cooke. When I graduated in 1933, it was at the height of the depression. Honolulu City and County Auditor, and former Kamehameha Schools Purchasing Agent, Edwin P. Murray offered me a job as a messenger in the county's auditing department. My years at Kamehameha prepared me for a 38-year career as Senior Fiscal Analyst with the City and County of Honolulu. Kamehameha lives on in my heart forever.

Today, Nip and his wife Kathryn live in Honolulu. In earlier years Nip was an avid swimmer, diver, and surfer. Among his beach buddies he was known as “Squid Eye,” because of his keen ability to find squid. Since his days in Kamehameha’s Kodak Club, photography has been an avocation of Nip’s which he and Kathryn have put to good use on their world travels.
